

Curriculum Vitae
Caroline V. Reilly, M.A.
cvreilly20@ucla.edu

Department of Sociology
University of California, Los Angeles
Los Angeles, CA 90095

EDUCATION

---

University of California, Los Angeles

Ph.D. Student, September 2020-Present

M.A., Sociology, June 2022

Thesis: “Do Events Shape Race? A Comparative-Historical Examination of Social Mobility on 17th-century Barbados and Montserrat”

Committee: Rebecca Emigh & Vilma Ortiz

University of Memphis

M.A., Sociology, May 2020

Phi Kappa Phi

Thesis: “Irish Social Mobility: Examining Elite Responses to Crisis in the 17th-Century British Caribbean”

Committee: Clayton Fordahl (Chair), Carol Rambo, SunAh Laybourn

Rhodes College

B.A., Sociology and Anthropology, May 2018

Magna Cum Laude

Phi Beta Kappa

PUBLICATIONS

---

Reilly, Caroline Virginia and Junmin Wang. 2022. “Critical Mass and Critical Representation: Economic Transition, Workplace Cultures, and Women CEOs in China.” Sociology of Development, 1-31. DOI: 10.1525/sod.2020.0045.

Wang, Junmin, Caroline Virginia Reilly, and Kaniz Fatema. 2022. “Gender Bias, Institutional Predicaments and Innovativeness of Female CEOs in China” Journal of Developmental Entrepreneurship. DOI: 10.1142/S1084946722500078.

Reilly, Caroline. 2017. “Men’s Centrality in Language and the Need for Grassroots Resistance.” Cultural Studies Academic Journal: Spring 2017, 1: 26-45. Department of Anthropology and Sociology: Rhodes College.

PRESENTATIONS

---

“*” denotes accepted but not presented due to COVID-19 Pandemic

August 2022. “Irish Social Mobility: Examining Elite Responses to Crises in the 17th-Century British Caribbean.” American Sociological Association, Los Angeles, CA. Caroline Reilly.

August 2022. “Critical Mass and Critical Representation: Women CEO’s Impact on Representation & Occupation Trajectory in China.” American Sociological Association, Los Angeles, CA. Caroline Reilly and Dr. Junmin Wang.

July 2022. “Critical Mass and Critical Representation: Economic Transition, Workplace Cultures, and Women CEOs in China.” Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics, Amsterdam, the Netherlands. Caroline Reilly and Dr. Junmin Wang.

August 2020. “Critical Mass and Women CEOs in China: The Moderating Effects of Firms Ownership and Industrial Sectors.” American Sociological Association, Virtual. Caroline Reilly and Dr. Junmin Wang.

April 2020. “Inequities in Women’s Access to Reproductive Healthcare.” Population Association of America, Washington D.C. Caroline Virginia Reilly and Sarah Collins (equal authorship).*

April 2020. “Inequities in Women’s Access to Reproductive Healthcare.” Southern Sociological Society, Jacksonville, FL. Caroline Virginia Reilly and Sarah Collins (equal authorship).*

April 2020. “Comparing Processes of Ethnic Boundary Change on 17th- and 18th-Century Barbados and Montserrat.” Southern Sociological Society, Jacksonville, FL. Caroline Virginia Reilly.*

November 2019. “Male Emotionality in NCAA Championship Basketball: 30 Plus Years of ‘One Shining Moment’.” The North American Society for the Sociology of Sport, Virginia Beach, Virginia. Dr. Gretchen Peterson, Caroline Reilly, and Michael Topping.

October 2019. “Race and Ethnicity’s Association with Accessing OBGYN Care.” Southern Demographic Association, New Orleans, Louisiana. Caroline Reilly.

August 2019. “The Strength of Female Leadership: Gender Discrimination, Network Penalties, and Firm Innovation in China.” American Sociological Association, New York City, New York. Dr. Junmin Wang, Caroline Virginia Reilly, Kaniz Fatema.

August 2019. “A Different Kind of Unconventional: A Literature Review of Families, Incarceration, and Serial Murder.” Sociologists for Women in Society, New York City, New York. Caroline Reilly.

June 2019. “The Strength of Female Leadership: Gender Discrimination, Network Penalties, and Firm Innovation in China.” Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics, New York City, New York. Dr. Junmin Wang, Kaniz Fatema, Caroline Virginia Reilly.

June 2019. “Gender Discrimination, Network Penalties, and Firm Innovation in China.” Canadian Sociological Association / Société Canadienne de Sociologie, University of British Columbia in Vancouver, British Columbia. Dr. Junmin Wang, Kaniz Fatema, Caroline Reilly.

April 2019. “Creating Whiteness: The Processes of White Identity Formation on Seventeenth-Century Barbados and Montserrat.” Southern Sociological Society, Atlanta, Georgia. Caroline Reilly.

March 2019. “Agency and Whiteness in Irish’s Cultural, Racial, and Economic (Re)Designation in 17th-Century Caribbean.” University of Memphis: Graduate Student Research Forum, Memphis, Tennessee. Caroline Reilly.

April 2017. “Alice in ~~Wonderland~~ Otherlands.” Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity Symposium, Rhodes College, Memphis, Tennessee. Caroline Reilly, sponsored by Dr. Susan Kus.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

---

CONFERENCE

August 2022, Presider of Roundtable, “Section on Comparative-Historical Sociology,” American Sociological Association 2022 Annual Meeting.

August 2019, Discussant for Roundtable, “Navigating Families,” in Sociologists for Women in Society 2019 Summer Meeting.

April 2019, Presider of Session, “Whiteness and Non-U.S. Racial Identity Formations,” in Southern Sociological Society 2019 Annual Meeting.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2018-2022, Women in China’s Private Financial Sector, with Dr. Junmin Wang, Department of Sociology, University of Memphis.

2018-2020, Graduate Research Assistant, Department of Sociology, University of Memphis.

Summer 2019-Spring 2020, Dr. Gretchen Peterson

2018-Spring 2019, Dr. Carol Rambo

2017-2018, Directed Inquiry under Dr. Noelle Chaddock, Department of Africana Studies, Rhodes College.

2017-2018, Senior Capstone: “Creating Whiteness: The Process of Irish White Identity Formation on Seventeenth-Century Barbados and Montserrat,” in partial fulfillment for the degree of Bachelor Arts in the Department of Anthropology and Sociology, completed under the guidance of Dr. Evelyn Perry and Dr. Jeanne Lopiparo, Rhodes College.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

September-December (Fall Quarter) 2022, Teaching Assistant, Dr. Andres Villareal, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Introductory Sociology (SOCIO 1)

July-August (Summer Session C) 2022, Reader, Dr. Jason Sexton, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Sociology of Crime (SOC 147A)

June-July (Summer Session A) 2022, Reader, Dr. Jon Sigmon, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Development of Sociological Theory (SOC 101)

March-June (Spring Quarter) 2022, Teaching Assistant, Dr. Jenni Brand, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Sociology of Education (SOC M175 / EDU M108)

January-March (Winter Quarter) 2022, Teaching Assistant, Dr. Isaac Speer, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Race and Ethnicity in American Life (SOCIO 156)

September-December (Fall Quarter) 2021, Teaching Assistant, Dr. Andres Villarreal, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Introductory Sociology (SOCIO 1)

June-July (Summer Session A) 2021, Reader, Professor MJ Hill, Doctoral Candidate, Department of Sociology, University of California Los Angeles.

Course: Sociology of Gender and Family (M174)

10 February 2021, Guest Lecturer, Professor Anna Maldonado, MA, Department of Political Science, Florida Atlantic University.

Course: Government of the United States

Topic: Black Lives Matter, Race, and Inclusion in the U.S.

30 October 2019, Guest Lecturer, Dr. Gretchen Peterson, Department of Sociology, University of Memphis.

Course: Senior Capstone Seminar

Topics: The Cost of Caregiving; Building Resumés for Applied Careers

13 September 2019, Guest Class Facilitator and Lecturer, Brandi Barnes, Department of Sociology, University of Memphis.

Course: Race and Ethnicity

Topic: Privilege

Fall 2019, Recurring Guest Lecturer, Cynthia Stockton, Department of Sociology, University of Memphis.

Course: Sociology of Family

Topics: Qualitative and Quantitative Methodologies; the Sociological Research Process

Spring 2017, Teaching Assistant, Dr. Luther Ivory, Department of Religious Studies, Rhodes College.

Course: Introduction to Religious Studies

HONORS AND AWARDS

---

2020. Phi Kappa Phi

2018-2019. Departmental Travel Grant

North American Society for the Sociology of Sport

Southern Demographic Association

American Sociological Association

Southern Sociological Society

2018. Phi Beta Kappa

2018. Sigma Alpha Alpha, Southern Athletic Association Honors Society

2015-2018. NFCA All-America Scholar Athlete

2017. Phi Alpha Theta, History Honors Society

2017. Rho Lambda, Panhellenic Leadership Honors Society

2017. Theta Alpha Kappa, Religious Studies and Theology Honors Society

2015. Phi Sigma Tau, Philosophy Honors Society